

INDIA'S MAOIST MOVEMENT

March 3
8:30pm EST
5:30pm PST

SERVE THE PEOPLE, GO TO VILLAGES!

The Revolutionary Student Movement in India

Journalist and Participant/Observer in the Indian Revolutionary Movement, N. Venugopal will speak about the Naxalite movement in India, with a particular focus on the role of students. "Go to Villages" was a call put out by the Radical Student Union (RSU) after Emergency ended in 1977; students in university took up this campaign to support the Naxalite movement. Students participated in this movement to go among the common people and organize for revolution. He will share his experiences from this period, provide an overview of the history of students joining the revolutionary movement in India, and speak to the broader lessons from these experiences for Marxists around the world.

ZOOM LINK: bit.ly/MaoistMovement

*with N. Venugopal participant-observer of the movement, author of
"Understanding Maoists"*